- This list only reflects the insurers and managed care organizations that have contracts with Princeton Medical Center. Your physician may or may not have contracts with these plans.
- We have included links to each plan's web site. Princeton Medical Center is in no way responsible for the accuracy of the information on these sites, nor are we responsible for any of the sites' functions. The sites are the property of the sponsoring companies, and inquiries about the sites should be directed to them.

- If you do not see your plan listed here, please feel free to email our Managed Care department at davisot@princetonhcs.org. We will respond to your request and advise if we accept your plan.
- Prior to receiving services, it is important that you contact your insurance company to determine your potential out-of-pocket costs under your insurance plan and to double-check that your individual healthcare services are covered and authorized.
- Not all of the physicians who work in the Princeton Medical Center participate in the same health insurance plans that the hospital accepts.
- We have a list of all employed and contracted physicians who practice at Princeton Medical Center on our website. You may contact the physicians directly to see if they participate in your health insurance plan.
- You should check with the physician who ordered the healthcare services and ask whether the physician is in network or out of network with your health insurance plan. You should also ask if there are additional physicians who may be involved with your care.
- The physicians bill separately. So, you may receive more than one bill for your healthcare services.
- If a physician is in network, you should never be charged more than your in-network copayment, coinsurance or deductible for covered services.
