The Employee Benevolent Fund provides financial support to Penn Medicine Princeton Health employees in times of unusual need. The Fund is mainly supported through employee donations and is a program sponsored by Princeton Medical Center Foundation.

How the Fund Works

Applications are accepted from eligible Princeton Health employees and remain confidential throughout the process.

The Employee Benevolent Fund Committee reviews each application. The Committee is made up of Princeton Health employees from various departments. In order to protect the applicant's privacy, no names are given to the members of the Committee. The Religious Ministries department facilitates the application process. Final decisions on grants are made by the Employee Benevolent Fund Committee.

How Funds Are Distributed

Once determined that the application meets all guidelines and is able to be funded, a check will be issued for the amount determined by the Committee.

Payments will be sent directly to the company owed, not directly to the applicant.

How the Fund Helps

Expenses that may be covered include:

- Medical and dental expenses not covered by insurance, and after the deductible is met
- Impending eviction/foreclosure
- Expenses related to an unanticipated family emergency affecting the employee
- Unexpected transportation repairs preventing the employee from going to work
- Expenses related to a "major disaster" as declared by a state or federal official

Criteria for Applications and Approval of Funds

Donations to the Employee Benevolent Fund are voluntary and will not affect the chances of receiving or not receiving a grant.

Applications may be submitted at any time.

The amount given is dependent upon available balance in the Fund.

Eligibility for Application

Princeton Health Employees who:

- Have applied for 40 hours of MyTime through Human Resources
- Have been employed by PMPH for more than one year
- Are not in final warning disciplinary action status
- Are not on an unresolved Performance Improvement Plan
